FRIENDSGIVING
Grab your friends and cook a delicious meal together, it’s all about giving thanks! Friendsgiving is an American tradition where it’s similar to the Thanksgiving meal, but with your friends instead. You can cook a meal together or each person can cook a dish and bring it to the event, making it more of a potluck style. It’s a time where you can all relax, share some stories, and have fun over a hearty meal!

FALL BREAK CONNECTION PROGRAM: THANKSGIVING EXCHANGE

The Fall Break Connection Program: Thanksgiving Exchange gives UC San Diego international students the opportunity to spend the holiday with a local host family or community in and around the San Diego area.

This exchange program is an opportunity for both international students and hosts to learn more about each other’s cultures and meet new friends over a shared meal. It is also an important way for international students to learn firsthand about the diverse ways in which this holiday is observed in the United States. Many students and hosts are returning participants each year!

Registration is closed for this year. Stay tuned for next year’s program!
